

UC DAVIS

Graduate Program of Environmental Policy and Management

Top Recommended Resources for Finding and Applying for Internships

1. EPM website → Resources page
 - a. List of Environmental Institutions in the Sacramento Region doc: learn about what institutions are in the neighborhood
 - b. Internship Resources doc: list of completed internships and recurring internships by specialization
 - c. Past UCD Environmental Internships spreadsheet: a list of relevant internships completed by UCD students EPM and non-EPM (under construction).
2. Student Listservs
 - a. EPM: Read the weekly EPM email to learn about specific new opportunities
 - b. Sign up for other UCD listservs where desired:
 - i. Muir Institute: lists relevant job, internship, and fellowship opportunities (contact coordinator Mabel Oen, myoen@ucdavis.edu)
 - ii. ESM/EPAP: these environmental bachelors programs receive lots of relevant opportunities (contact advisor Melissa Whaley, mmwhaley@ucdavis.edu)
 - iii. Any other related department in an area you're studying (TTP, WFC, etc)
3. Handshake: lists on- and off-campus employment opportunities
4. Internship and Career Center (ICC)
 - a. Find dates and times for career/internship fairs {learn about institutions and employment opportunities; network}
 - b. One-on-one meeting with an advisor {hone internship strategy}
5. Your alumni listserv: some alumni listservs send out job/internship announcements--you might benefit from joining such listservs for degrees you've completed in the past.
6. Internships.com: search for environmental internship opportunities by area (e.g. surrounding UCD)
7. Websites for state and federal government: CalHR.ca.gov (state), USAjobs.gov (federal). Narrow by geographical region (e.g. Sacramento) and use search terms such as "Graduate Assistant" and "Internship".
8. Websites for individual institutions: government, private and non-profit sectors (e.g. CalEPA, ERA Economics, or Nature Conservancy)

Please email suggested additions or corrections to Jessica Penrose (japenrose@ucdavis.edu)